

A Piece of Work on Retirement Day by John Zimmerman.

Director: Belinda Foreman.

A comedy in one act. A married couple try to come to terms with the changes taking place as the wife joins her husband in retirement. They realize that they must come to terms with the past in order to move into the future.

Kill A Fellow by Joe Bulvid

Director: Linda Ward

Synopsis: Dylan left Ivy at the altar alone. Ivy has plotted her revenge. A dark comedy in one act.

Next to Him by Joseph Vitale

Director: Linda Ward

It is just before sunrise and the security guard at the cemetery comes upon a woman with a shovel. What is she doing and why? That's the crux of this one act comedy.

Our Human by Andrea Fleck Clardy

Director: Cindy Perez

Synopsis: Something is up with their human. Chat and Ember will do their feline best to make whatever is wrong – better.

Satan at Walmart by James McLindon

Director: Cindy Perez

A Walmart clerk summonses the Great Dissembler so that he can sell him his soul ... but what is he really asking for in return?

The Garden Path to Hell is Paved with Good Intentions by Kelly McBurnette-Andronicos

Director: Ruthanne Munger

The friendly HOA president is looking forward to spring, the pandemic's end, and Game Day! But his neighbor, an unrepentant master gardener, needs just a few minutes of his time to help her with some simple tasks in the garden. In a matter of minutes, the president finds himself on the other side of the law when the yard chores turn hilariously criminal.

The Tree Talk by Allston James

Director: Carla Beard

A young girl knows that her father and grandfather died in combat many years ago but now it's time to learn the secret of how their memories have been preserved in a unique way on the family farm

Ordained by Mark Harvey Levine

Director: Carla Beard

Sharon has a license -- and she's not afraid of using it